About This Free Web Edition

This is the free web edition of December, one of the twelve monthly volumes of It All Points to Jesus — a companion for a 365-day journey through the whole Bible. It walks beside your own Bible reading with daily summaries, how each day points to Jesus, reflections, fellowship questions, prayer, and a practical step for the day — with the weekly reviews in their place.

Read the Word first. This companion does not reproduce the text of Scripture — read the readings first in your own Bible. Scripture quotations follow the World English Bible (WEB), a public-domain translation.

The readings follow the day-numbered plan: Day 1 is January 1 and Day 365 is December 31. December covers Days 335–365. You may begin on any day; the journey restarts every January.

A printed paperback edition of this volume is also available for those who prefer a book in hand. Print is for the hand — the Word itself is free.

Help us keep it true. Spot a mistake? Write to us at bridgefaithc@gmail.com — every note is read and checked with care, and corrections flow into the print editions.

It all points to Jesus — and all the material is at no cost to you.

The Dance of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit

Before there was a world, there was a rhythm of love.

The Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit — moving together in perfect joy, each delighting in the others. When the Bible opens, the Spirit of God is hovering over the waters. God says, “Let us make man in our image.” And John tells us the Word was there from the beginning, that all things were made through him, and the Word became flesh.

That is the dance underneath everything you are about to read.

Day by day, through the Old Testament, the New Testament, the Psalms, and the Proverbs, you will see the dancers: the Father speaking and sending, the Son revealing and redeeming, the Spirit opening eyes and hearts. We encourage you to read the Scripture first. Then let this companion help you hear the music.

You are not reading alone. The moment you open the Word, you step into a rhythm that began before time itself — and you are invited to join the dance.

Scripture calls Him the head of the church — the head of the body (Ephesians 1:22; Colossians 1:18) — and in Him all things hold together (Colossians 1:17).

Jesus is that spine. We must never forget it.

“Holy Spirit, open our hearts to see Christ in all of Scripture.”

December

From Eden To Eternity

The King Is Coming — And the Invitation Is Still Open

The Final Month of the Journey

Soli Deo Gloria — For the Glory of God Alone

Welcome to December. Eleven months of Scripture now stand behind us. We have walked from creation through covenant, slavery and rescue, wilderness and promise, judges and kings, wisdom and worship, prophets and exile, Bethlehem and Galilee, the cross and the empty tomb, Pentecost and the spreading gospel. Now the final month gathers the whole story into view. But December is not simply the finish line of a reading plan. It is where the great biblical circle closes: from Eden to the Cross, from the Cross to the Empty Tomb, from the Empty Tomb to the nations, and from the nations to the New Creation where God's servants see His face. Genesis began with God, creation, a garden, a river, the tree of life, and humanity made to live in His presence. Sin shattered that fellowship. Death entered. The way to the tree was closed. Yet God immediately began unfolding His rescue. Through promise, covenant, sacrifice, priesthood, kingdom, temple, wisdom, prophecy, exile, and restoration, one great hope kept moving forward. Then the Word became flesh. Jesus came. He lived among us, loved perfectly, carried our sin to the cross, rose from the grave, ascended to the Father, poured out the Holy Spirit, and sent His followers into the world. Revelation now shows us where His victory leads: evil judged, death defeated, creation renewed, the river and tree of life restored, the curse removed, and God dwelling with His people forever. December therefore asks us to read slowly. Do not hurry because the finish line is visible. We do not merely want to say, I finished the Bible. We want to say, I saw Jesus — and I want to know Him more.

The Long Waiting — God Was Not Absent

As the Old Testament closes in Malachi, God's people are left waiting for the promised messenger and the coming of the Lord. Then comes the long interval before the New Testament era — roughly four centuries often called the silent years. Scripture gives us no new canonical prophetic books from that period, but silence did not mean inactivity. The Holy Land passed through major political powers and transitions: Persian rule, the Greek and Hellenistic world that followed Alexander, the Jewish Hasmonean period, and finally Roman domination. Greek became widely used across the eastern Mediterranean. Trade and sea travel connected cities and peoples. Under Rome, an enormous network of roads and shipping routes linked much of the Mediterranean world. None of those empires created the gospel. Yet when the fullness of time came and Jesus was born, the world into which the apostles would later carry His name had pathways of language, travel, cities, commerce, and communication that could be used to spread the message rapidly. Paul would walk Roman roads, sail established sea routes, enter strategic cities, speak in synagogues and marketplaces, and send letters that traveled from church to church. The lesson is not that political empires were holy. Scripture is clear about human pride and injustice. The lesson is that God remains sovereign even through centuries His people do not fully understand. While generations waited, history was still moving toward Jesus.

Roman Roads Then — Digital Roads Now

The first Christians used what was available to them: roads, ships, homes, public spaces, handwritten letters, personal testimony, and face-to-face relationships. The message was never the road. Jesus was the message. The road simply carried the messenger. Our generation has been given different roads: phones, audio, video, digital Bibles, translation tools, podcasts, networks, and communication that can cross the world in seconds. Technology is not the gospel, and it cannot create faith. But it can become a road upon which the unchanging gospel travels. That gives us both an opportunity and a responsibility. What will we carry down these roads? May we use them not to make ourselves known, but to make Jesus known — helping people open God's Word, see Christ, grow in relationship with Him, and then help someone else do the same.

Father — Son — Holy Spirit: Love That Brings Us Home

The relational foundation that began this Companion remains at its center. The Father created us for relationship and, when sin separated us, did not abandon His purpose. In love He sent the Son. The Son came willingly, revealing the Father, bearing our sin, defeating death, and opening the way home. The Holy Spirit lives within God's people, opens our eyes to Christ, forms His character in us, strengthens our witness, and keeps the church looking toward the return of Jesus.

Father — Son — Holy Spirit — relationship with God — relationship with one another — invitation to the world.

The cross shows the depth of that love. The supreme sacrifice of Jesus was not an interruption in the story; it stands at its center. The more we read Scripture, the more we begin to see what His sacrifice fulfills: the Lamb, the altar, the priest, the Passover, the Day of Atonement, the suffering Servant, the rejected King, the pierced One. And the more we see, the more we want to know Him. That is the thirst we pray this journey creates. Not merely a desire to collect biblical information, but a hunger for Jesus Himself.

Read Until Love Draws You Back

The first journey through Scripture teaches us the story. The next journey reveals connections we missed. Then passages begin speaking to seasons of life we had not yet lived. Sacrifices mean more because we know the Lamb. Prophets become clearer because we know the King they awaited. Psalms become deeper because we have suffered, rejoiced, failed, repented, forgiven, and been restored. Eventually the motivation changes. We stop saying only, I need to finish my Bible reading. We begin saying, I want to meet with Jesus. And love draws us back to Genesis again.

Keep the Rhythm — One Final Month

Read Scripture first. Let the Bible speak before the Companion speaks.

See the whole story. December is filled with echoes from Genesis, Exodus, the prophets, the Gospels, and the cross. Notice them.

Discover Jesus. Watch for the Son of Man, Shepherd, humble King, pierced One, Lamb, Faithful and True, King of kings, Alpha and Omega, and the One who makes all things new.

Notice the Holy Spirit. Remember that the Spirit who inspired Scripture also forms Christ in His people and empowers witness.

Share the relationship. Tell someone what you are seeing. Invite another person into the Word. Use every faithful road available to carry the good news.

Prepare to begin again. Day 365 is not graduation from Scripture. It is an invitation into a deeper second journey.

December Prayer

Father, thank You for loving us from before we knew how deeply we needed You. Lord Jesus, thank You for Your supreme sacrifice, Your empty tomb, Your living presence, and Your promise to return. Holy Spirit, open our hearts to see Christ in all of Scripture. Give us a thirst that grows rather than fades. Use our words, relationships, churches, homes, and the technology of our generation to carry the gospel faithfully to others. Prepare us for the day when every knee bows before Jesus and for the day when faith becomes sight and we see His face. Until then, keep us reading, loving, obeying, sharing, and beginning again. Soli Deo Gloria. Amen.

From Eden to Eternity — It ALL Points to JESUS.

Day 335 - December 1

Read First: Daniel 8:1–27 • 1 John 2:1–17 • Psalm 120:1–7 • Proverbs 28:25–26

Old Testament Summary

Daniel watches a ram and a goat clash in vision — kingdoms rising, trampling, and falling exactly on God’s schedule. The vision concerns the time of the end. Earthly powers rage and boast for a season, but God has already written the last chapter.

New Testament Summary

“If anyone sins, we have a Counselor with the Father, Jesus Christ, the righteous. And he is the atoning sacrifice for our sins, and not for ours only, but also for the whole world.” John warns against loving what is passing: “Don’t love the world... The world is passing away with its lusts, but he who does God’s will remains forever.”

Psalm Summary

Surrounded by deceitful tongues, the psalmist cries out in distress — and the LORD answers him. God hears His people.

Proverbs Summary

Greed stirs up strife, but whoever trusts in the LORD will prosper. Trust God; don’t grasp at the world. Trusting yourself is folly; walk in wisdom and be kept safe.

Discover Jesus Today

Empires in Daniel’s vision rise and fall on schedule — God is never surprised by history. Above it all stands Jesus, our Advocate with the Father, whose atoning sacrifice reaches “the whole world.” Kingdoms fall; Christ remains.

Heart Reflection

What part of “the world” — its approval, its comforts, its noise — am I loving too much? Where do I need my Advocate, Jesus Christ the righteous, today?

Fellowship Questions

Talk about one thing in this world that competes for your heart, and how Christ's love answers it.

Prayer

Lord Jesus, my Advocate, keep me from loving what is passing away. Fix my heart on what remains forever. Amen.

Live Today

Loosen your grip on one worldly thing today — and tighten your grip on Jesus.

Day 336 - December 2

Read First: Daniel 9:1–11:1 • 1 John 2:18–3:6 • Psalm 121:1–8 • Proverbs 28:27–28

Old Testament Summary

Daniel reads Jeremiah, understands the exile is nearly over, and pours out a long confession for his people. Before he finishes praying, Gabriel arrives with heaven's answer: seventy weeks are determined, leading "to the Anointed One, the prince." God answers prayer with a timeline that ends in a Person.

New Testament Summary

"See how great a love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God!" When Christ appears, "we will be like him, for we will see him just as he is" — and "everyone who has this hope set on him purifies himself." Hope purifies.

Psalm Summary

"I will lift up my eyes to the hills. Where does my help come from? My help comes from the LORD, who made heaven and earth." The Keeper of Israel never sleeps.

Proverbs Summary

Whoever gives to the poor will not lack. When the wicked rise, people hide themselves; when they perish, the righteous thrive.

Discover Jesus Today

Daniel's seventy weeks point to the Anointed One — prophecy with a Person at the end. And John's promise lifts us higher: one day we will see Him as He is, and be like Him. Until then, we live as the Father's children, kept by our sleepless Keeper.

Heart Reflection

John says everyone who has the hope of seeing Jesus “purifies himself.” Do I live today as a child of God with that purifying hope? What one thing needs to change before I see Him?

Fellowship Questions

Share how the hope of seeing Jesus one day shapes a choice you face this week.

Prayer

Lord Jesus, Anointed One, make me ready for the day I see You as You are. Purify my heart as I wait in hope. Amen.

Live as the King's child today — give generously, turn from one sin, and lift your eyes to your Helper.

Day 337 - December 3

Read First: Daniel 11:2–35 • 1 John 3:7–24 • Psalm 122:1–9 • Proverbs 29:1

Old Testament Summary

Daniel sees kingdoms rise, schemes unfold, and rulers exalt themselves. Human power looks impressive for a season, but God remains Lord over history.

New Testament Summary

John makes the family resemblance of God's children practical: turn from sin, love one another not in words only but in deed and truth, and when your heart condemns you, rest in God, who is greater than your heart.

Psalm Summary

Jerusalem is pictured as a place of worship, unity, justice, and peace. God's people are invited to pray for its good.

Proverbs Summary

Stubborn resistance to correction eventually brings ruin. A teachable heart is a gift.

Live Today

Do not treat Day 365 as the end. Tomorrow, open the Word again. Read, read some more, and keep reading until you see Jesus face-to-face.

The 365-Day Celebration

From Eden To Eternity

It ALL Points to JESUS We began with four unforgettable words: In the beginning God. Before Abraham, Israel, Moses, David, the prophets, Bethlehem, Calvary, or the empty tomb, there was God. He created a good world and made humanity to know Him. Sin shattered that fellowship. The curse entered. Death came. Yet almost immediately God began revealing His rescue. Through covenant, sacrifice, priesthood, kingdom, temple, wisdom, prophecy, exile, and restoration, the promise kept moving forward. Then the Word became flesh. Jesus fulfilled what the Law anticipated, what the sacrifices pictured, what the kings could not accomplish, and what the prophets promised. He lived without sin, carried our sin to the cross, rose from the grave, ascended to the Father, poured out the Spirit, and began gathering His church from the nations. Revelation shows the destination: the Lamb wins. Evil is judged. Satan is defeated. Death is removed. The curse is gone. Creation is renewed. The tree and river of life appear again. God dwells with His people, and His servants see His face. Finding Jesus This Year He was there in creation and promise; in the ark and Passover; in sacrifice and priesthood; in manna and living water; in tabernacle and temple; in David's throne and the prophets' hope. He came as Servant and King, died as the Lamb of God, rose as Lord, reigns at the Father's right hand, walks among His churches, and will return as King of kings. From Genesis to Revelation, the Bible is not a pile of disconnected stories. It is one unfolding story of God's glory and redemption centered in Jesus Christ.

The Ending That Is Not An Ending

Begin Again

You have reached Day 365. But you have not finished the Word. The goal was never to conquer a book, check a box, or prove that you could complete a reading plan. The goal was relationship: to know the Father through the Son, to walk by the Holy Spirit, and to become a person whose life increasingly points to Jesus. So tomorrow, open your Bible again. Return to Genesis 1:1 — but now read it with eyes that have seen Revelation 22. You know where the river leads. You know why the tree of life matters. You know what the curse costs. You know the Lamb. You know the King. You know that the serpent will not win. You know that the One through whom all things were made is also the One who says, Behold, I am making all things new. The second journey will not be the same as the first because you will not be the same reader who began.

Let the Thirst Grow

Read the Bible to meet Jesus. Read it again to know Jesus. Read it again to love Jesus more deeply. Read it again to understand more fully the supreme sacrifice He made because of His love. Read it again so His Word shapes the way you think, speak, forgive, serve, suffer, rejoice, give, and love. Then share what you are discovering so someone else becomes thirsty for Him too. The pages will become more familiar, but Jesus will never become small. There will always be more to see of His holiness, grace, wisdom, compassion, sacrifice, Kingdom, and glory.

The Gospel Keeps Moving

The apostles carried the gospel along the roads and sea routes of their generation. Paul traveled, preached, planted churches, disciplined people, and wrote letters. The early believers carried the message from person to person, household to household, city to city. Now different roads lie before us. A Bible can cross an ocean in seconds. A voice can be heard on another continent. Scripture can be read, heard, translated, discussed, and shared through technology unimaginable to previous generations. But the mission has not changed, and the message has not changed. Technology is only a road. Jesus is the gospel. So use the road. Use your table, your living room, your church, your friendships, your phone, your voice, your gifts, and whatever faithful means God places in your hands. Help one more person open the Word. Help one more person see Jesus. Encourage that person to help another. One person becomes two. Two become a family. Families become groups. Groups strengthen churches. Churches reach communities. Communities reach nations. And the gospel continues outward until the day Christ returns. We do not build His Kingdom by our power. Jesus is already King. We bear witness to Him. Scripture tells us where history is going: every knee will bow and every tongue will acknowledge Jesus Christ as Lord.

Until We See His Face

Perhaps we will reach the end of our earthly lives before Christ returns. Perhaps a generation will be alive when the King appears. Either way, the destination for those who belong to Christ is the same: faith becomes sight. Revelation ends where our deepest longing has always been leading: His servants will see His face. Until that day, keep opening the Word. Keep asking the Holy Spirit to show you Christ. Keep walking with the Father. Keep loving the person in front of you. Keep carrying the gospel down every faithful road God provides.

One Last Invitation

You have reached Day 365. But this is not the end. Tomorrow, open your Bible again. Return to Genesis 1:1. Read it with eyes that have now seen Revelation 22. Look for Jesus. Listen to the Holy Spirit. Walk with the Father. Share what you discover with someone else.

And then keep going. Read. Read some more. And keep reading until you see Jesus face-to-face. Then perhaps the words we have carried through these twelve months will finally become unnecessary — because we will be standing before the One to whom they pointed. It ALL Points to JESUS.

Begin Again.

Soli Deo Gloria — For the Glory of God Alone.

About It All Points to Jesus

After two and a half years of reading the Bible every day together, a husband and wife felt the Holy Spirit speak a simple vision: everyone in the world reading the same portion of Scripture on the same day — Old Testament, New Testament, Psalm, and Proverbs — and seeing how it all points to Jesus.

These little monthly volumes are companions for that journey. Read the Word first in your own Bible; then let the summaries, reflections, and questions help you see Christ on every page.

They are written for groups gathering around the table — and just as much for the one who is alone. If you are by yourself today, you still have a friend in Jesus.
